

Above is shown the entrance to the new addition at the Taylor Post 106 American Legion's building. The new large meeting room has already been used for a movie showing and a auto show early next month.

This huge excavation is for the foundation and basement structure of the new business block at the corner of Peninsular and Michigan Avenues which will house the Burns Hardware Company. The new building will be 40 by 94 feet.

The sign in the local Barber shop window was quite indicative of Grayling last Thursday. The ring-necked pheasant called many residents on the census opened. The town was just about deserted for opening day. Hunting was reported as good.

The above picture shows completed work so far on the new addition at the rear of the Bear Archery Company's plant. The new addition, measuring 41 by 88 feet, will be used primarily for storage space. Completion is expected late in November.

Old Jack Pine had to buy a couple of pumps a week or so ago, and, taking advantage of a "connection", got them at something near wholesale. Good pumps they are made by one of the best and oldest pump companies in the land. But it's a difficult pump to hook up, so I called upon a professional to do the job for me. Well, it so happened that when he came down he had with him a most unpleasant, ill-mannered hulk of a man, who, without giving his name, announced that he was the Regional Representative of the company whose pumps I had, and demanded to know just where in hell I had got those pumps. Then he proceeded to tell me that those pumps were 1959 models, that they weren't right for the job, and that I probably wouldn't be able to get parts and service for them.

The U. S. Air Force has established the Ground Observer Corps post in Grayling in the City Park on US-27 at the pump house. It has been announced. The post is yet not in operation due to the telephone not being installed. It is hoped the observer post will be ready for active duty in a week or so.

Mrs. Jones, the housewife, and Tommy Jones, the teenager (multiplied by thousands) have saved Michigan taxpayers $2,765,018.00 since the Ground Observer Corps was formed.

That is the amount of money the Air Defense Command would have had to pay at the minimum $1-hour-wage if it had not been for the volunteers in the Michigan Ground Observer Corps. The hour total was contained in a routine Air Force report to head quarters.

The total saving actually is higher, because most of our volunteers couldn't be hired at $1-an-hour, said Captain Robert L. Paulhaber.

Paulhaber said, "As in any volunteer effort, the turnover rate is high. Furthermore, almost half our volunteers are housewives and they can't be expected to continue year after year. They have families to care for. That's why we need more volunteers than ever before. Michigan has 13,000 — we need 20,000."

Michigan accepted with thanks a gift of 1400 acres of wild land given by George W. Mason, late president of Nash - Kelvinator Corporation.

The Conservation Commission, acting for the people of Michigan, accepted the gift last week during its October meeting at Gull Lake.

Acceptance was held up pending an attorney general's opinion on the term "game preserve" as written in Mason's will. The term was defined to mean that the Department can administer the land using modern fish and game conservation practices.

The hunting and fishing will be governed by the same regulations that cover other state land.

The gift is strung out on both sides of eight miles of the Au-Sable River's south branch a few miles southeast of Grayling.

Mason also left $25,000 in a trust fund for stocking the stream with trout during the coming years.

Farmers May Benefit Right After Hi-ways In Attack On State Problems

Farmers Are Next In Line After Highway Users to Reap the Benefits of a Round-Robin Attack on State Problems.

There are those who will charge that the ideas sponsored by Gov. Williams and his staff of elected state officials are merely investments in the 1956 campaign.

Democrats view them — at least publicly — as their contributions of leadership.

First of those to come up with a special program outside the governor's office was Secretary of State James M. Hare, who drafted the Democratic highway safety program.

It lay in his desk for weeks until it could be "cleared" through Williams, promoted and presented. Now highway safety is to be the main item in a special legislative session.

Republicans look at this way. People have been killed and maimed on Michigan highways since Detroit's automobile industry put the world on wheels. Those who survived have tried to stop the slaughter.

Safety campaigns have been conducted and laws have been passed by the legislature, all toward the end of cutting down the "toll of progress."

Statewide speed limits have been proposed. Tougher licensing procedures have been enacted. A former secretary of state created a central driver licensing system with legislative help.

But it's been a slow process. Some of the state's top newspapers and others have made highway safety a major issue. They have tried to protect people from themselves.

Now comes Hare with a program for the special session endorsed by Williams. Democrats would like to have it put into effect immediately.

"This is nonpartisan," said Hare. "While the Hare Democratic program is sponsored by a party, it covers together all the dozens of proposals and hopes of Republicans and the nonpartisan individuals."

One official cautioned about expecting too much. "After all," he said, "some mighty good men have been wrestling with the agricultural problem in Washington for several years. It isn't likely we are going to sit down and solve the whole thing in a few weeks."

grayling's New Gridiron . . .

For the Mancelona game last Friday night, the Grayling football field at the Grayling Memorial Recreation area was just about completed. The only things needed now are a large number of bleacher seats and a score board.

The field is in excellent condition, especially in view of being smoothed and planted this summer. Another year with a top dressing to iron-out small sinks and low places and another seeding and it should be one of the best fields in the north. The lighting is tops and the public address booth gives the announcers a perfect view of play at all time. The fence gives a finishing touch to the field.

With the addition of the new yard markers, the field took on a big league appearance. Bleachers and a large scoreboard will, no doubt, be ready by another season.

Everybody we have talked to seems to be enthusiastic about the gridiron and feels that the committee accomplished a good job with the donated finances. The Grayling High students are very happy with the field as well and already a new feeling of pride in the field has touched the Viking student body. In fact it was very evident in the performance not only of the Viking football team but the band and rooters.

This should be a source of pride to those whose gifts of money made this gridiron possible. Further improvement in the area will no doubt raise the spirit of Grayling even higher. The area thus far has proven an extremely fine investment for those who donated. They will not collect on their investment in the way of interest or dividends, but, speaking for ourselves, attending just two games and watching the added pleasure for our boys and girls is plenty of interest on our investment — R.W.S.

seems to be that 30 years ago the railroads had a practical monopoly on moving people and freight. So the government set up some special laws to govern 'em.

"Now the truckers, the waterways, the pipelines, and the flying machines have moved in, but the poor, old railroads are hemmed in with the same old antitrust laws, which the Interstate Commerce Commission administers in the same old way.

"So Secretary Weeks and Company . . . would make the commission quit governing every little thing the transport companies did and only keep an eye on freight rates in general. So long as they operated in a zone of reasonableness, said Weeks, they could compete among themselves for business."

What the Presidential committee has done is to recognize the undeniable facts of life as they apply to commercial transportation today. Allowing each carrier greater freedom to compete for business would mean that each would be able to make the most of its own special advantages — and the public would get the best service at the lowest cost.

CADILLAC for 1956

Presenting the Most Inspiring Motor Cars the World Has Ever Seen!

You are looking at three of the most magnificent and inspiring creations ever to issue from the drawing boards of Cadillac's designers and engineers.

These spectacular new Cadillacs—in company with the other Cadillac models for 1956—introduce a standard of automotive excellence that will find no counterpart on the highways of the world.

Where, for instance, could you find anything to match them for beauty and elegance? Their long, low, sweeping lines... their jewel-like grille and rear-fender designs... their brilliant new color combinations... their sparkling highlights of chrome and gold... all combine to create a beauty that is truly unique.

Where could you find anything to equal them in luxury?

Inside are fabrics of rare richness and pattern...

...and features of comfort and convenience that will delight even the most experienced Cadillac owner.

And where could you find anything to rival them in performance? There's a completely redesigned Cadillac engine developing 285 and 305 horsepower... a new, controlled-coupling Hydra-Matic Drive... and advanced Cadillac Power Steering and Power Braking.

This extraordinary new Cadillac beauty... and this brilliant new Cadillac luxury... and this dynamic new Cadillac performance... have been interpreted in four separate series and in nine individual body styles.

We sincerely urge you to stop in for a personal inspection and demonstration at your earliest convenience.

We know you will agree that, in every way, they are the most inspiring motor cars the world has ever seen.
